++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A showery weekend with some thunderstorms.

Today:
Early rain across northern and eastern counties will clear away this morning with a mix of showers and sunny spells following behind. Showers will become widespread for the afternoon with the risk of some heavy and thundery downpours. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers gradually fading away this evening, but a few scattered showers will move into western and southern parts of the southwest overnight. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Sunday:
Organised bands of showers will move eastwards across the region during the day. Showers will be heavy, slow-moving, and, possibly, thundery at times. Some sunny spells in-between. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday starting with sunny spells and scattered showers, becoming thundery or containing hail but turning largely dry overnight. Unsettled for Tuesday and Wednesday with further showers and sunshine.
